

Think Pink

(© Past Perfect Genes – Lyrics & Music: Haris Cazlaris)

Riff: E G G# B [8x] A C C# E [4x] E G G# B [8x] B D D# F# [2x] A C C# E [2x] E G G# B [4x]

E E A A E
The Japanese guy is staring at you, got this silky-minded priest next to me

E E B A E
That guitar of yours' intrigues and puzzles me I would sing the blues again for you

G A E G A E
If you'd think pink of me – If you'd think pink of me

G A E E E D
Won't you think pink of me, of me, of me, oh yeah...

E E A A E
Got this pink-dressed lady sitting by me, with a couple of kids, rather very pink too,

E E B A E
But your blondie curly hair is what dazzles me, and that guitar of yours' in the black sleeve

G A E G A E
If you'd think pink of me – If you'd think pink of me

G A E E E D
Won't you think pink of me, of me, of me, oh yeah...

Solo (E chord only) – Sax – Keys – Gtr ...

E E A A E
Got this old truck driver waiting with me, killing his time, watching TV

E E B A E
I keep staring at the lady sitting by me, pinky-minded, oh, think pink of me

G A E G A E
If you'd think pink of me – If you'd think pink of me

G A E E E D
Won't you think pink of me, of me, of me, oh yeah...

Solo (E chord only) ad lib to end